

As a pediatrician I have noticed that over the last two decades, parents have forgotten what it means to make the right decisions for the well being of their children.

Modern parents think that if their child cries, they must immediately do something to stop it, regardless of the effects of doing so.

As a result, children in our society have become misbehaved, obese, and socially incapable of adapting to the demands of the adult world.

From the first few weeks of life and into adulthood, it is your responsibility to create a healthful environment for your children. That requires perseverance in spite of their persistent requests for unhealthy foods, endless toys and a free pass on behavior. It requires a commitment to recognizing the long term effects of constantly giving in to whining and temper tantrums, to permitting aggressive behavior and complying in the face of guilt and blackmail.

Crystoppers offers a practical guide to assist parents in making wise, well-informed, healthful decisions for their children.

Dr. Kaweblum has been a pediatrician since 1980.

He is the father of three children and grandfather of two.

Born and raised in Mexico City, Dr. Kaweblum moved to the USA in 1983, where he completed his pediatric residency at the University of Miami.

It was there where he became very interested in pediatric behavioral practice.

Together with his wife Yvette, Dr. Kaweblum founded the Boca Del Mar Pediatric and Adolescent Center in 1989.

He has been recognized as a Top South Florida pediatrician as well as a Florida Super Doctor numerous times during the course of his practice. Dr. Kaweblum has also earned recognition for excellence in pediatrics 8 times by Castle Connolly.

An active and involved parent, grandparent and member of the South Florida community, Dr. Kaweblum is dedicated not only to maintaining the health of his patients but to educating parents raising healthy, well behaved, nutritionally balanced and socially adapted children.
